

Recommendation of the Business English Programme

---

I highly recommend the postgraduate Business English programme at the University of Economics in Katowice.

Thanks to this programme, I gained valuable knowledge and practical skills related to professional communication in English. The classes helped me develop my business vocabulary, prepare for and conduct negotiations, write professional documents such as a CV and cover letter, prepare job offers, and use English more confidently in a variety of business situations.

All classes were conducted in English, which significantly improved my language proficiency and confidence in professional communication. During the programme, we practised effective communication techniques, professional interviews, teamwork in pairs and larger groups, individual presentations, and business-related communication within a company.

The lectures were well prepared and delivered by experienced Business English professionals who combined theoretical knowledge with practical insights. I particularly appreciated the wide range of topics, including negotiations, marketing, professional correspondence, presentations and various aspects of Business English used in everyday professional environments.

In my opinion, the Business English postgraduate programme at the University of Economics in Katowice is an excellent choice for people who want to develop their business communication skills in English. The programme provides practical knowledge and competencies that are highly valuable in today's international business environment.

I believe the programme is well designed both for participants beginning their journey with Business English and for experienced professionals who want to further develop their skills.

---

Marcin Kowalski

Office Specialist | IT Engineer | Hotel Receptionist